

10 KEY NUMBERS TO DRIVE PERFORMANCE

(and none of them are on your financial statements)

In this fast-paced interactive session, experienced business coach Rob Nankervis will be sharing the principles behind 10 numbers that your business should be thinking about ... helping you work out where you stand right now, and ideas to shift the needle..

Rob Nankervis is a business consultant, advisor and executive coach.

He specialises in coaching Founder/Owners, CEOs and senior executives in driving substantial growth agendas and overcoming performance challenges in their mid-size organisations.

He is the author of the upcoming book Propelling Performance: Why your business is under performing and what you can do about it and writes the regular Rob's Insights leadership column.
